

Mass. Memories Road Show at UMass Boston

Your family's place in Massachusetts History

The Mass. Memories Road Show is coming to Lowell!
Celebrate Your Place in Lowell's History!
A fun, free event, open to the public!

Saturday, March 24, 2012

10 am – 3 pm

Come whenever you like - it does not take long to participate!

What is the Mass. Memories Road Show?

It's a chance to join your neighbors and friends as we collect photos that show the history of the people, places, and memories of Lowell for a digital archive and website.

Who can participate?

Anyone who is a Lowell resident, works in Lowell or has any connection to Lowell is invited to be a participant.

What do participants do?

- Bring up to 3 photos that illustrate life in Lowell. These can be historical or more recent photos of your home, your family, your community, your neighborhood – the choice is yours!
- Items will be scanned, and the originals will immediately be returned to you.
- You may also contribute to an oral history video project and tell the story about your photos.
- Learn about how to preserve, identify and date your photos.

Where does this happen?

Tsongas Industrial History Center
UMass Lowell/Lowell National Historical Park
Boott Cotton Mills Museum, 4th Floor
115 John Street, Lowell, MA 01852

Come share your story and become a part of the digital history of Massachusetts! All scanned information becomes part of a state-wide educational website called "Mass. Memories Road Show: Your Place in Massachusetts History" (see: <http://massmemories.net/lowell.php>). The Mass. Memories Road Show is an initiative of the Massachusetts Studies Project in the Archives & Special Collections Department of the Joseph P. Healey Library at University of Massachusetts Boston and is co-sponsored by Mass Humanities.

Pre-registration recommended but not required. Contact: Ellen Anstey, Tsongas Industrial History Center. Telephone: 978-970-5101 or e-mail: Ellen_Anstey@uml.edu

This event is part of the year-long series of events for the 20th anniversary of the Tsongas Industrial History Center, a partnership between UMass Lowell's Graduate School of Education and Lowell National Historical Park. For more information about all of the events for the 20th anniversary, visit our website <http://www.uml.edu/tsongas/anniversary>.
